

Mississippi Jury Issues Two Indictments

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — The Lafayette County grand jury, blaming federal marshals for "agitating and provoking violence" during desegregation rioting at the University of Mississippi, has handed down two secret indictments.

No names were released by the grand jury as it acted Friday after studying for a week the Sept. 30 riot that followed the arrival of James H. Meredith—a Negro, on the Ole Miss campus.

However, it lashed out at Chet U.S. Marshal James P. McShane for his order to fire tear gas at demonstrators that night.

"We find that this illegal action on the part of McShane set off the tragic violence which followed," the grand jury report said.

Sheriff Joe Ford of Lafayette County was directed to arrest the two persons and have them in the next session of court, scheduled for March 2, 1963.

The names of the indicted persons will not be released until they are arrested, under Mississippi law. Both are from outside Mississippi, according to Circuit Judge Walter M. O'Barr.

Therefore, the name could be released when the judge signs papers to extradite them to Mississippi. O'Barr said Dist. Atty. Jesse Yancy Jr. would prepare the extradition papers.

O'Barr, a native of Mississippi, had charged the grand jury to indict anyone who helped incite the riot—including President Kennedy and his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy. However, O'Barr said that "neither the President nor the attorney general was named."

In a related development, the Justice Department in Washington announced it hoped to file papers in the "criminal contempt" cases against Gov. Ross Barnett and Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson Jr. shortly after Thanksgiving.

The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans directed the Justice Department on Thursday to bring the criminal contempt charges. Both Barnett and Johnson have already been found guilty of civil contempt by the court for their parts in blocking Meredith's admission to Ole Miss, but no penalties have been imposed.

Criminal contempt is designed to punish persons for past defiance of court orders, while civil contempt proceedings are intended to bring about future compliance.

No Increases to Head of Departments

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Legislative Council decided today that, as a matter of policy, it would not grant salary increases during the next biennium to department heads now making $8,000 a year or more.

The policy resolution was introduced by Little River Rep. Marion Crank who said most department heads got generous salary increases from the 1961 legislature.

"This will let the general public know we are making some effort to hold the line on top salaries even if we have extra money to spend," Crank said. "Let's put this extra money into public education or into running these agencies."

Crank's motion excluded the colleges and university and covered only those agencies which draw operating money from general revenues.

Sen. Tom Allen of Brinkley raised an objection that some department heads did not get pay raises two years ago and might deserve an increase this time around.

Crank said his resolution did not change the council's rule for approving budgets and only a simple majority vote would be required to give a pay increase to any official who deserves one.

Crank's resolution was approved unanimously.

Body of Man Found on Road

JASPER, Ark. (AP)—The mangled body of a 34-year-old Hecor man was found Thursday night in the middle of Highway 7, near neighboring Deer, Ark.

Newton County Sheriff Guy Bennett said Floyd English was first thought to be a hit-and-run victim. Later investigation showed that English had been shot.

Bennett theorized that English had been walking along the road when he was struck down. His pickup truck was found near the scene in a ditch along the highway. It was hardly damaged.

The body was found by an unidentified motorist, who, according to the sheriff, almost ran over the man.

The sheriff said an autopsy will be performed today to determine the exact cause of death. There was no indication as to what type of gun was used in the shooting.

Rate Increase Is Protested

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A petition with 89 signatures protesting a proposed rate increase by the Ozark United Telephone Co. at its Ozark, Altus and Alma exchanges were filed today with the Public Service Commission.

The firm is trying to increase its rates from $3.50 to $4.50 monthly. It has promised to improve service.

Ozarks United put the rate increase into effect a year ago but it was suspended by the PSC after protests were filed. The company asked earlier this month that the suspension order be revoked.

Sues to Nullify Racing Decree

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Pulaski Circuit Judge Guy Amster has issued an order nullifying a state Racing Commission decree barring two men from the West Memphis dog racing track.

Amster signed a default decree after the commission did not file an answer or appear for a hearing within 30 days after Thomas Griffin and George Griffin, brothers, brought suit.

The appeal contended that the Griffins were barred from the track Sept. 1 after a closed hearing at the track. It was not disclosed why they were barred and the commission did not file a transcript of the hearing.

Amster said the brothers had not violated any rules of the commission and the ruling of the state agency was not supported by substantial evidence.

More Pressure On Russia to Remove Planes

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is reported to be increasing its diplomatic pressure on Russia for prompt removal of Soviet jet bombers in Cuba.

Withdrawal of the planes — the last of the offensive weapons to which the United States made specific objection — dominates all U.S.-Soviet contacts, including personal exchanges between President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev, informants said.

Kennedy is understood to have made clear to Khrushchev that it will be impossible for the United States to move on any other front of diplomatic relations until the bomber problem is settled.

The President and his advisers regard it in large part as an issue of good faith, since Khrushchev promised to take from Cuba all the offensive weapons to which Kennedy objected and not just the 42 missiles cleared out last week.

Washington officials said the bomber issue is of greater concern than Prime Minister Fidel Castro's threat to shoot down U.S. reconnaissance aircraft.

Their confidence apparently rested on a belief the Russians would not support Castro in any military action that was sure to bring U.S. retaliation. It was assumed here that the big surface to air missile bases of which the Soviets set 22 up in Cuba are under Soviet command and the control of Soviet troops.

Authorities said that Castro certainly has the power to fire on and perhaps to knock down some U.S. planes. And there was no denial that if this happened it would bring a rapid increase in tensions in the Cuban crisis and mark the beginning of a dangerous new period.

Whether it would also have the result of causing Khrushchev to look more carefully at his policy on the IL-28 jet bombers is a question. Since he has lost Cuba as a major nuclear missile base authorities here find it hard to believe he would pay much of a price to retain weapons of secondary importance there at the cost of serious trouble with the United States.

President Kennedy so far has not set a deadline to get the bombers out, but such a possibility has not been ruled out.

Labor Favors Tax Slash Next Year

By LARRY OSIUS

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's proposals for a tax cut next year have won the warm blessing of top-ranking labor, business and civil leaders.

An overwhelming majority of the expanded 170-man conference of the President's Labor-Management Advisory Committee said Thursday that they favor a quick, substantial tax cut to spur a sluggish U.S. economy.

Among other things, most of the conferees seemed agreed: That any tax cut should be permanent.

That it should be about $10 billion a year or less, although many recommended up to $15 billion.

That a tax cut bill should be divorced, if necessary for passage, from the tax reform proposals Kennedy is expected to make to Congress next year.

Most labor members of the panel said taxes should be cut mostly in the lower income brackets. Industrial members held out for both income and corporate cuts.

Public members—economists, educators, and public officials—seemed to favor at least two-thirds of the cut in income taxes to stir consumer spending.

Few panelists raised the objection that has been heard from many Congress members: That a tax cut is not justified, in view of a national debt that tops $300 billion and the official Budget Bureau estimate that this fiscal year will add another $7.8 billion to it.

Storm Troubles Small Ships

BOSTON (AP) — Three small ships were in trouble today more than 120 miles out in the North Atlantic. They were caught in a storm that whipped up 55-mile winds and extremely heavy seas offshore and brought bitter winds to New England generally and heavy snow in Maine.

Boston Coast Guard headquarters announced it was hurrying aid to two New Bedford fishing craft, taking water and reporting flooding far off Cape Cod and Nantucket.

It also reported the U.S. Navy ship New Bedford, a Marine transport service craft with 23 aboard, was disabled with a broken steering cable, but in no immediate danger.

Appears That Castro May Be Winner

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

If Fidel Castro is not to emerge in the guise of victor and hero from the U.S.-Soviet confrontation, it may be necessary one of these days for the United States to retreat the Cuban crisis.

The appearance of a Castro victory in the Cuban standoff, after all that has happened, could have disastrous results for U.S. policy in Latin America, where it scored heavily with the strong posture which resulted in dismantling of Soviet missiles in the Caribbean.

Yet under certain circumstances Castro might make points for his side. It is entirely possible for him to proclaim himself a victor over the "North American imperialists" if nothing is done about those Soviet bombers on Cuban soil or inspectors are not put in Cuba to make sure offensive weapons have been removed.

The Communists could propagandize the compromise on either of these points as a backdown by the United States in the face of Castro's defiance. Castro might thus try to recoup some of the losses he sustained in Latin America when both Kennedy and Khrushchev humiliated him in the showdown.

It is difficult to believe that the long stay of Anastas I. Mikoyan in Cuba has been anything more than a Kremlin masquerade, a subterfuge to indicate to the world that the Havana regime still enjoys sovereignty, that it is not owned outright by Soviet communism.

It is difficult to believe there was no collusion between Castro and the Soviet first deputy premier in what is presented to the world as a stubborn Castro stand against inspection and against giving up the bombers.

The Soviet Union, through Premier Khrushchev, pledged itself to remove from Cuba any weapons Kennedy regarded as offensive, and to permit on-the-spot inspection. Moscow's excuse for not removing the bombers and fulfilling the inspection commitment was that Castro wouldn't permit it.

But Castro has no place to go. His bridges are burned. He has no choice in the long run except to obey Moscow. The whole Cuban economy and all the island's military hardware depend upon the Russians. If Moscow support were withdrawn, Cuba would be in chaos. The Red Chinese are in no position to substitute for the Russians even if Castro wanted to pull a deviation.

Therefore, it seems logical to suppose that if Moscow wanted to insist, to twist Castro's arm, the Cuban boss would have no choice but to do as he was told.

However, instead of insisting on Cuban preemption for inspections and surrender of the bombers, Mikoyan and the Soviet press take up a cry of support for Castro's so-called "five points," which include a demand that the United States give up its Guantanamo base.

The Russians must know the five points will get nowhere, but the cry provides Khrushchev with excuses.

Bids on Dikes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Farrell Construction Co., of Memphis, submitted an apparent low bid of $379,810 Thursday for construction of revetments and dikes on the Arkansas River at Beaverdam Island, 10 miles south of Conway.

The bid was $14 more than the government estimate. There were six other bidders. Army Engineers said construction would be on the south bank along a three-mile stretch of river.

A Peek at Football Fans Turkey Day Will Prove This Is Chrysanthemum Time

By MARY ANITA LASETER

PARIS (AP)—The United States members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization form their own integrated nuclear force.

Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, in a speech to the annual NATO parliamentarians' conference, said the United States is willing to place its experience at the disposal of the European members in the formation of such a force.

His speech obviously referred to American experience in handling such weapons and not on how to make them. Ball was referring mostly to the capabilities and use of a nuclear force.

Referring to Europe's evident desire to play a larger role in nuclear defense, Ball said "should other NATO nations so desire, we are ready to give serious consideration to the creation of a genuinely multilateral medium-range ballistic missile force fully coordinated with the other deterrent forces of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization."

Scientific Minds Are Stumped

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Some of the best scientific minds in the country were stumped when a slender, dark-haired young man chalked on the blackboard this equation:

His audience consisted of several hundred members of the American Rocket Society, gathered for his luncheon address Thursday.

The equation was his way of expressing the mathematical probability that intelligent beings from outer space have visited earth.

Sagan explained that in his equation "n" stands for the number of advanced technical civilizations in the universe possessing the capability of inter-stellar communication.

"r" is the mean rate of star formation averaged over the lifetime of the galaxy.

"ne" is the mean number of planets in each system with environments favorable for the origin of life.

"fi" is the fraction of such planets on which life does develop.

"f" is the fraction of such inhabited planets on which intelligent life with manipulative abilities arises during the lifetime of the local sun.

"fc" is the fraction of planets populated by intelligent beings on which an advanced technical civilization arises.

This is the season the chrysanthemum is at its glorious best. A quick look at the spectators at a Thanksgiving football game will show many of the girls with padded shoulders, for large mums are apt to be adorning them.

Chrysanthemums are flowers native to Asia, and the large mums of today were developed by Chinese thousands of years ago from a small, yellow wild flower. In Japan, where the flower can be traced back many centuries, the chrysanthemums is the national flower.

The first large-flowering chrysanthemum was introduced to England in 1789 and to America in 1847. Chrysanthemums have been popular with the gardeners, both professional and amateur, as an exhibition flower because of their great size and variety of shape and color, and also because some varieties are extremely hardy, permitting use in perennial gardens.

Popular not only at football time, the chrysanthemum is a favorite of flower lovers because it can be planted in the late spring and early summer when the greenhouse would otherwise be empty. (Again we wonder, has the writer never heard of roses?) Chrysanthemums mature quickly and they bloom from late August until early December.

Cultivation of this flower is not difficult. Most of the destructive insects and diseases may be controlled by the careful selection of clean stock to be used for cuttings. (Plants grown from cuttings make better growth, give better flowers, and are easier to stake and tie in the garden.) Nearly all chrysanthemums grown in commercial greenhouses are produced from cuttings.

All chrysanthemums are not the huge types displayed in showrooms and banquet halls. Many of the prettier ones are tiny and are found in gardens at home. In the Orient, where dwarf trees, shrubs, and flowers are cultivated, the smaller varieties are particularly enjoyed.

How many different kinds are there? More than 500 named varieties of the chrysanthemum are listed in dealers' catalogues and horticultural works, and new forms are constantly being produced. Early fall "disbudding" is one factor the chrysanthemum grower often practices.

To better explain what is meant, we learned that the first bud to appear is generally the crown bud. It will flower early and give a large flower, but the shape, color, and habit are not as desirable for commercial use as are flowers from later buds. As the flower continues to bud, all the buds except one on the final shoot are removed if only one large flower is desired.

As far as Thanksgiving and football are concerned, everyone knows "mum's the word" for the spectators, and we are sure they won't misinterpret the phrase.

Norphlet Station Will Be Closed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Missouri-Pacific Railroad notified the Arkansas Commerce Commission today that it plans to close its station at Norphlet in Union County on Feb. 13, 1963.

Under commission regulations, the railroad can go ahead with the closing unless petitions carrying 25 names protesting the move are filed within 60 days.

India Braces For Further Red Assaults

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Anxious Indian commanders braced for possible Chinese assaults at two other critical points today following renewal of sharp fighting around a key Indian position at the eastern end of the rugged Himalayan frontier.

Perhaps most vulnerable of the two points is Chushul airfield, nearly three miles high in the mountains of Ladakh at the western end of the dispute border. Chushul is the key to the Indian effort to hold a defense line in that region where 2,500 square miles of territory have been lost since the Chinese offensive began Oct. 20.

The other critical point is some 1,000 miles to the east around the Buddhist monastery town of Towang in India's northeast frontier district. The Indian defenses are based on 13,756-foot Se Pang, a dozen miles southeast of Towang.

Any large-scale battle there might determine whether the Chinese would carry the border war into a full-dress invasion of the thickly settled plains of Assam below the mountains.

By Chinese account, Indian forces already have launched an attack in the Towang area.

A Chinese broadcast mentioned fighting there as well as in the Wanglung region 300 miles to the east, where the Indians said Friday they were holding their ground against what they called a massive Chinese counterattack.

The Chinese struck in the Wanglung area, near the Burma border. Thursday night after a week in which each side tested the other's positions with patrol actions.

Chinese Communist broadcasts heard in Tokyo said the Chinese were striking back after the Indians laid down a heavy artillery barrage to cover troops advancing near Wanglung.

Refugee Tells Committee About Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Cuban refugee doctor made a masked appearance before the House Committee on Un-American Activities today, explaining he feared his relatives in Cuba might be harmed if his identity were known.

The mystery witness, his head completely covered by a cloth sack with only eye holes cut in it, testified that he fled Cuba seven or eight months ago, and that the Fidel Castro government seized all his property the day he left.

He said the Cuban government controlled all supplies of drugs through a national council, and that once he had seen American-made pills which had been packaged in a box bearing the label of an Iron Curtain country.

On another occasion, he said, a female militia officer was stationed in an operating room while he was performing surgery. He said he didn't see how they could be afraid he might sabotage the operation, but apparently they were.

He also said a Communist doctor, who tried to indoctrinate him, told him "now the U.S. Marines are going to come and will put bayonets in the stomachs of pregnant women."

Two other Cuban doctors, who left with their families in 1960, appeared unmasked. They were Dr. Emilio B. Solo, now working at the Fairfax County Hospital, Falls Church, Va.; and Dr. Jose G. Tremols, working at the outpatient clinic of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Both also testified their property was confiscated when they left. The doctors were not willing to say that the Cuban Communist regime used medical treatment or drug supplies as an ideological weapon.

Adenauer to Face a New Home Crisis

EDITOR'S NOTE — The writer of this analysis is a member of the Associated Press staff regularly stationed in Berlin. He has been in Washington during the visit of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

By CARL HARTMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer flies home today to face a political crisis with new strength from his talks with President Kennedy.

Adenauer apparently believes that the Western world ought to make no proposals to the Soviets on Berlin and Germany, because any deal might result in concessions to the Reds. Now he has the President's word that there will be no new offers, at least until the Cuban crisis clears up. That may take a long time.

Adenauer can say that there was no discussion of any proposals that might some day be made to the Soviets. It had been expected that there would have to be some talk about them.

So the result of his visit is to push the possibility of any Western initiative pretty far into the future.

The sometimes crusty old chancellor, now nearing 87, had kind words for the American stand on Cuba. It was a big success for the United States, he said, and a failure for the Communists. Before Adenauer left for the United States, he had made some skeptical remarks about the American position in the Cuban situation.

In Washington, his tone was different. His friendly talks with the President, the televised smiles and handshakes, the honors and praise he got can all be a big help with the voters and politicians back home in Germany.

Just now the voters and politicians are pretty angry. The anger is concentrated on Franz-Josef Strauss, Adenauer's able but highly controversial defense minister. Strauss has been getting a lot of the blame for the arrests and midnight searches connected with an article in "Der Spiegel," a popular West German news magazine. Many Germans were reminded uncomfortably of the tactics of the Gestapo, the secret police of Adolf Hitler's day.

Strauss also is under fire for the facts disclosed in the story that caused the row: that the West German army is far from efficient and got a low rating in recent maneuvers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The voters in Bavaria, Strauss' home state, will have a chance to express their thoughts in a local election before the end of the month.

Last week the Christian Democrats—the party of Adenauer and Strauss—took some losses in the state of Hesse. If they take more losses in Bavaria, a lot of people will say the chancellor is losing his grip.

Adenauer's visit to Washington may do something to prevent that.

Visions Hopes for Alliance

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A former American ambassador to Peru said Thursday the Alliance for Progress was worthy of high hopes and should not be judged too soon as a failure.

James Leah Jr., who served as ambassador to Peru from May 1961 until early this month, called the alliance a long-term project which cannot "achieve any economic progress without political stability in the various Latin American countries."

The multi-billion dollar program, a mutual economic project, is a major part of President Kennedy's policy toward Latin America.

Leah said the Peace Corps works independently of the alliance, although both programs were withheld from Peru during and after national elections, when the military took control of the country. The takeover threatened briefly American recognition of the Peruvian government. Leah resigned in the wake of the crisis.

A lack of purchasing power and being misunderstood by Americans were cited by Leah as problems for the alliance.

Big Parades Plans for Turkey Day

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The turkey is king of television during the next seven days and will be seen in many shapes and forms up to and including Thanksgiving Day. The holiday will serve as the theme of most variety shows.

There are, in addition, some other items of special viewing interest.

"On Jordan's Stormy Banks," on Saturday (ABC, 10-) is a documentary treatment of the tangled Jordan-Israel controversy, a special of the "Close-up" series.

Sunday afternoon brings a repeat performance by the NBC Opera Company of "Boris Godunov" (2:30-4:30). ABC's feature film (8-10 p.m.) is a biblical drama, made for TV but never before shown, called "The Story of David" starring the late Jeff Chandler. NBC's "Show of the Week" (10-) is "Emergency ward," a documentary filmed in Bellevue hospital, New York City, with real doctors, nurses and patients.

Leonard Bernstein's first "Young People's Concert" of the season comes on Wednesday (CBS, 7:30-8:30 p.m.) and deals with the acoustics of the new Lincoln Center Philharmonic Hall.

Thanksgiving Day — Thursday — will see two rival holiday parade programs. NBC will concentrate on the New York march for two hours, and at the same time, CBS will show the parades in New York, Detroit and Philadelphia (10-2 a.m.). Pat Boone stars in a "Thanksgiving afternoon special" on NBC (5:30-6:30), assisted by Pat Page and Phil Harris. Telephone Hour on NBC that night (10-11) will present Carl Sandburg, John Raitt, Martha Wright, Mahalia Jackson and the West Point Glee Club.

Florida Sees A Boom in Business

By JOE MCGOWAN

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Many Florida business leaders forecast one of the busiest tourist seasons in years in the wake of the Cuban crisis which took shape 90 miles from its shores.

There are exceptions to the bright predictions but generally the tone is one of optimism.

The businessmen say their earlier fears that the crisis would cripple the vital tourist trade have been dispelled. Tourists already are beginning annual vacations in the state.

A two-week survey by the Florida Council of 100, a business advisory group to Gov. Farris Bryant, resulted in a prediction that 1963 would be the biggest year yet in the history of Florida's economy.

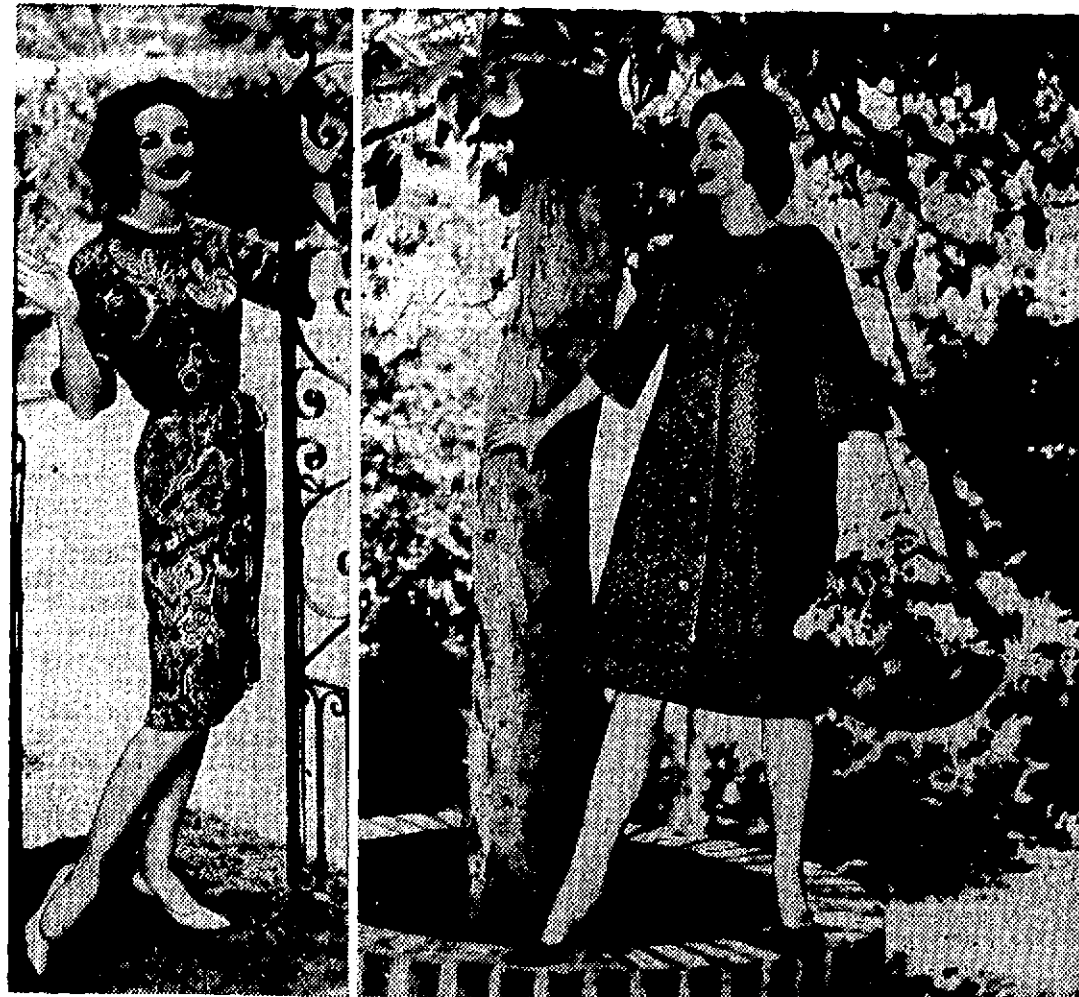

The council predicted 14,700,000 tourists would visit Florida, compared with an estimated 12,200,000 this year.

Fred O. Dickinson of Palm Beach, council chairman, said, "the crisis has been a tremendous boost because of the thousands of servicemen who have been sent to Florida and are spending money in Florida's hotels and restaurants."

"Also the hundreds of civilians in and out of government who have been sent to Florida in one connection and another with the crisis."

Dickinson said, "It is obvious now because of the tremendous military buildup in the state that Florida is the best protected area in the United States."

Airlines reported travel from northern areas to Florida resorts was improving, as ex-57's engine, the onslaught of cold weather. Florida business officials said

DOROTHY DIX She Made A Mistake

Dear Helen: I'm the sixth child in the family and have been brought up by two elder sisters, our mother being so busy with family and household chores. At 17, what I know about life — which isn't much — I've learned from my sisters.

People say I'm pretty — I think my nose is too snub but, anyway, I've got lots of boy friends, one of whom I love.

Not knowing the complete facts of life I made a silly mistake which has caused me a lot of trouble. I sat on this boy's lap — that's all Mom came in saw us, and raised the roof. She says if Pop ever catches him around the place again he'll kill me. If he does, I'll kill myself for I really love this boy. I have cried until tears no longer come.

There are more reasons than one for these tears. My parents quarrel far into the night and talk loudly of divorcing. My room adjoins theirs. I love my Dad but am growing to hate my Mom.

How can she talk of not forgiving me when she treats him so bad? Please answer in your column. Mom would nearly kill me if she ever found out that I had written you. —Unforgotten Teen-ager

Dear Unforgotten: Don't confuse the issues. The quarreling between your father and mother is one thing; the potting with your boy friend another.

A child of warring parents is always under an emotional strain. Go off by yourself, some place where you can think quietly and get a perspective on the two problems. Let your parents settle their own problem. For you to take sides or enter into it will only make matters worse.

Your concern should be yourself. What do you intend to do in life? Are your studies directed toward your goal? Are you making the most of your opportunity to get an education? For it is an opportunity, and you have your father and mother to thank for it.

Let reason and not emotion rule. At your age you are in love with love. If it weren't the boy whom your parents forbid you to see, it would be another. While sitting on his lap was not a heinous crime, this certainly could lead to trouble. Like you, your mother let her emotions run wild. But you must take into consideration that she is your mother, has borne six children and is evidently unhappy with your father. Patience is the golden key! Accept the ban on the boy friend and, if you really want to be somebody, concentrate on self-improvement.

Dear Helen: We are building a new home and want just such a room as Mrs. M. T. of Utah, describes: space for my husband's library, a couch for overnight guests and my sewing equipment. Could you put me in touch with her? We enjoy your column and read it every day. Thank you. —Mrs. Maurine Smith, 1039 F. 22nd North, North Logan, Utah

Dear Mrs. Smith: Not having Mrs. N. T.'s address, I print your letter hoping she may read this and get in touch with you.

Dear Helen: It has been three months since my boy friend and I broke up. My parents and friends think me too young to be in love but my feelings toward this boy are deep and abiding. He never really said "I love you" but he let me know in a thousand little ways.

Everything I did and said was to please him. Even my wardrobe reflects his taste. Then, all of a sudden, he stopped calling. We meet in passing at school but that's all. His mother is very dominating. Could this be the reason? He is 17, I am 15. Is that too young to fall in love? —Brokenhearted

Dear Brokenhearted: Some of us mature earlier than others. Juliet was 14 when she and Romeo fell in love, and Beatrice 9 when Dante first saw her. So there are no rules as to the precise age at which we first are capable of feeling the pangs of true love.

But in every great romance the boy, not the girl, is the pursuer. If your boy friend no longer phones, the reason is simple: he has lost interest. The experience is valuable only if it teaches you a lesson. Next time don't be too serious. That alone is enough to scare off any boy.

Herter Will Do Kennedy Some Good

By JAMES MAROW Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, didn't break any new ground in naming a Republican, Christian A. Herter, to a key job. He's done it before. In this case his choice should do him double good.

He picked the 67-year-old Herter of Massachusetts late Thursday to be this country's top man in negotiating the new foreign trade program.

Herter, a mild and earnest man, climaxed a life-long interest in foreign affairs by serving as secretary of state for most of President Dwight D. Eisenhower's last two years in office. He succeeded the late John Foster Dulles.

The new trade program, giving the President broad new tariff bargaining power and replacing the outdated Reciprocal Trade Act, is intended to move this country into closer economic partnership with Western Europe.

From the very start Kennedy showed he would not select aides according to their politics. One of his first acts was to put two Republicans in his Cabinet: Robert S. McNamara, defense secretary, and Douglas S. Dillon, Treasury secretary. (McNamara describes himself as a registered Republican who votes like an independent.)

Nevertheless, the fact that Herter has been one of the leading Republicans should help keep the congressional Republican opponents of the trade program off Kennedy's back, since Herter will be a shaper of the program.

He gave strong backing to the program when he testified earlier this year on Capitol Hill. Congress finally approved it—one of Kennedy's major achievements of 1962—but only after some House Republicans tried to scuttle it.

Republicans owe him thanks for helping to keep their party glued together in 1956 when Harold Stassen, trying to keep Vice President Richard M. Nixon from being renominated, proposed Herter as Eisenhower's running mate.

Herter refused to go along and was the one who nominated the unopposed Nixon at the convention. Then Stassen caved in so completely he seconded the nomination.

Herter, as secretary of state, didn't set any record. But no one expected him to. He inherited a foreign policy already laid down by Dulles and Eisenhower. This made his job a holding operation. He did it well, and quietly. He could be more blunt than

To Challenge A&M

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—John Deardorff of the University of Arkansas is expected to lead a challenge to Texas A&M's dominance of Southwest Conference cross country racing here Monday. The Aggies, defending champions in the conference, will be seeking a second title. E. L. Erner of Jasper, who set a new conference record time of 14:38 in last year's meet at Dallas, paces A&M.

Visit to Arkansas

HEBER SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The Memphis Engineers Club has selected Arkansas for its annual outing to visit engineering projects. Two busloads of club members were scheduled to arrive at Greers Ferry Dam near Heber Springs this morning. Other scheduled stops on the two-day tour include Dardanelle Dam on the Arkansas River and Blakely Mountain Dam.

Engineers to Meet

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The annual meeting of the Arkansas Society of Professional Engineers opens today with Harvey F. Pierce of Miami, Fla., as featured speaker. Pierce, a consulting engineer, will speak at a dinner meeting on the topic, "The Engineering profession—Fact or Fiction?" The state society is composed of registered engineers and has 431 members.

Dulles who always talked like a lawyer, at least in public. The best example of it came at Herter's first news conference after he became secretary in 1959.

Just a short time before he had spent six empty weeks negotiating with the Soviets at Geneva. Within a few days he was to go back to Geneva for more of the same. He was pessimistic, although he did not use that word.

A newsman pressed him, asking: If Herter had just one word to describe his feelings as he headed back to Geneva, what would it be? Herter yinme, he seemed to search his mind, and said: "It might be unprintable." He has plugged continuously for closer cooperation with this country's Atlantic partners. His support of the trade program was part of this concern.

Since leaving the State Department he has been chairman of the Atlantic Council, a non-governmental group of Americans interested in closer cooperation among the Allies, and chairman of the Committee on Foreign Affairs personnel under the sponsorship of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

His first job after leaving Harvard was in the State Department's foreign service in Europe. After World War I he took part in European relief. He served 12 years in the Massachusetts legislature, 10 years in Congress, one term as governor of his state, and as undersecretary of state before becoming secretary.

This should be a priceless background for a man negotiating trade agreements with the nations of Europe's Common Market, which opens a new economic era in the Western world and may lead to a new political one.

Treatment at Benton Hospital

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Hospital Supt. George W. Jackson told the Legislative Council today that the hospital would like to install treatment facilities at its Benton unit.

This desire, Jackson said, is the principal reason the hospital is asking that its budget be increased from $4.3 to $5 million a year.

Jackson appeared before a council budget hearing today to explain the agency's financial request for the next biennium.

It has asked appropriation of $5 million for fiscal 1963-64 and $5,250,000 for fiscal 1964-65.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus has recommended $4.8 million the first year and $5 million the second year.

Much of the new money would go for salary increases. Jones said the hospital was having trouble keeping qualified personnel at its present salary rates.

The hospital asked that Jackson's pay be increased from $18,000 to $25,000 a year. Faubus set the figure at $19,500.

The requested budget includes funds for 90 new employees and Jackson said most of these would be used at the Benton unit. He said the Benton unit is not now set up for treatment of patients, but is used principally to house retarded persons and for rehabilitation.

The State Hospital was the first general revenue agency with a large budget to come before the council. Consideration of larger general revenue budgets was withheld until after initiated Act 1 was defeated in the Nov. 6 general election.

The council will make budget recommendations to the legislature.

Superintendent W. L. Fulmer appeared to defend the state tuberculosis sanatorium's $2,064,000 budget request. This was only a small increase from last year's appropriation of $2,001,000. Faubus has recommended an appropriation of $1,933,000.

Fulmer said the agency did not need a large budget increase because it now has about 100 patients less than it had two years ago.

The sanatorium is seeking to raise the salary of Medical Director W. D. Jones from $12,500 to $17,500 a year. The governor approved this increase. It also seeks to peg the pay of its six physicians at $12,000 a year. Physicians now draw from $8,000 to $12,500.

Jones said one of the sanatorium's main problems was over-optimism on the part of the public which appears to think that wonder drugs have taken care of the tuberculosis problem.

He said health authorities still feel it is necessary for a duly diagnosed case to be treated first at a sanatorium for three reasons: to get an accurate diagnosis, to set up a treatment schedule and to educate the patient to his treatment needs.

Jones said all patients should be kept in the hospital until the disease is no longer contagious.

Engineer Buried

STAR CITY, Ark. (AP)—Funeral services were to be held at 2:30 p.m. here today for Aubert Jackson Evans, 54, chief auditor for the Army Engineers at Washington, D.C. Evans, who lived in Alexandria, Va., died Tuesday at Star City, where he and his wife had been visiting relatives for the past two weeks. He was a native of Milo in Ashley County.

Depot to Close

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Commerce Commission was petitioned Wednesday for permission to close the Frisco Lines station in Marion in Crittenden County. The railroad said the city is adequately served by buses and ion depot are decreasing, the firm said. The commission will consider the request Dec. 17 at a hearing.

Nixon May Not Be Out Politically

By RELMAN MORIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Is Richard M. Nixon, the controversial man, really finished now in public life as a result of losing his race to be governor of California?

Some observers, including former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, say they doubt it.

"He's too able a man, extremely able," Eisenhower said in New York. "It's not possible to say his career is ended. Maybe he thinks so. But somebody is going to invite him back into politics."

In Washington, columnist David Lawrence wrote, "Maybe Richard Nixon has nine political lives after all."

And the New York Herald Tribune quoted an unidentified associate of Nixon as saying a Republican president would name Nixon secretary of state.

In any case, the immediate aftermath of Nixon's defeat in California has been to focus tremendous attention on him more in fact than at any time since he left the vice presidency.

First, there was Nixon's astonishing volte-face.

Contrary to plan on the morning after the election, he appeared before about 100 reporters, and television cameras, and said bitterly, "You won't have Nixon to kick around any longer, because, gentlemen, this is my last press conference."

Next came a television program, broadcast by ABC, entitled "The Political Obituary of Richard M. Nixon."

Alger Hiss appeared in it, expressing his views of Nixon as an investigator. Nixon played a lead role in the investigation of Hiss by the House Committee on Un-American Activities in 1948. Hiss later was convicted of perjury in denying he passed U.S. secrets to the Soviet Union. Thousands of telephone calls and several hundred telegrams deluged ABC after the program, officials of the company said.

In the succeeding days, New York newspapers published scores of letters relating to these two events. The majority appeared to be favorable to Nixon.

So today, even in political oblivion—temporary or not—Nixon is still a center of controversy. It has marked his political career ever since 1946, when he first ran for Congress.

"As to my whole outlook on being controversial—I am aware that when you take strong positions on issues, knowing that the public may not at that particular

"You may," Columbine said gravely, "think this a snap judgment. But, as slyer Jenkins, aged 10, once observed, 'From where I perch, it smells to me like the great-grandfather of all little red apples.'"

"Somewhat uncouth," Miss Stubblefield said, "but eloquent. She paused an instant, blinked and passed a hand over her eyes. "I would," she went on, "be a grandmother. LAKE CITY, Ark. (AP)—Mayor Harold Timms said Wednesday Lake Village has completed arrangements for financing of a modern sewer system and treatment plant. The Housing and Home Finance Agency has approved a $22,675 grant to the city and a 35-year loan of $170,000 at 3.625 per cent interest. The city will issue $130,000 in general revenue bonds and $40,000 in sewer district improvement bonds to repay the debt, Times said.

The young lawyer arrived with his brief case soner than might have been expected. Columbine presented him to Miss Stubblefield.

He withdrew the paper from his brief case and placed it on the desk. "In correct legal form. Also I notified the afternoon paper."

Miss Stubblefield read carefully the typewritten sheet and affixed her signature. "One dollar, please," she said.

"Miss Stubblefield," Sam said, when the transaction was completed, "for years, skillful negotiators have tried to induce you to sell a part of your holding. How did Miss Druggut succeed where so many others have failed?"

"She," said the old lady, "led my mind back to the time when I was 20. Suddenly I became conscious that inflexibility is not a virtue, and that stubbornness is a thief of happiness."

Cats Clobber Arkadelphia 40 to 12 Here

By VINCE FOSTER

The Hope Bobcats humbled Arkadelphia last night 40-12 in Hammond Stadium. David Porterfield, Roy Wray, and Mack McLarty lead the Hope offensive thrust that rolled up 40 points in the first half, enabling the subs to play the second half. Porterfield and Wray scored two touchdowns each, while McLarty threw two TD aerials.

After the opening kickoff Arkadelphia quick kicked back to the Hope 25. In 13 plays the Cats moved to the Badger three, where David Porterfield carried it over. After a penalty, the PAT failed. The Badgers then held on to the ball for about a minute before they were forced to punt out again. Three plays later QB Mack McLarty passed complete to Roy Wray who raced 30 yards down the sidelines for the second Hope score. Porterfield converted to put the Cats on front 13-0 at the end of the first quarter.

With four plays gone in the second quarter Porterfield twisted his way 20 yards for his sixth TD of the season, but the PAT failed. Porterfield intercepted a Badger aerial and returned it to their 20 thirty seconds later. McLarty soon connected with Larry Thrash for a 13 yard scoring pass. Porterfield added the PAT.

Dan Jones intercepted later at the Hope 44 and returned it to the Arkadelphia 42. Porterfield carried for 12. Sullivan for 23, and a couple of plays later Roy Wray went over from the four. Again Porterfield converted. With 30 seconds left in the half, Chuck Beggs intercepted another Badger pass to set up Hope's sixth and final TD. This one came on a 55 yard scamper by HB Jackie Russell. Porterfield then converted his 18th extra point to put the Cats safely ahead 40-0 at the half.

The second and third team Bobcats played the second half and picked up four more first downs. Badger Nin went over from the five for Arkadelphia's first score, and then McMillan passed 13 yards to Kingery for the second score. Both PAT's failed.

All the Bobcats saw action in Friday's game and a dozen, three sets, backs netted yardage. They are: Porterfield 72, Russell 68, Sullivan 52, McLarty 14, McDowell 12, Waller 11, Wray 9, Mayfield 6, Wassell 6, Burnett 4, Samuels 2 and Jordan 1. Wassell lead the pass receivers with three for 33 yards.

Now everyone eyes Turkey Day with great anticipation. This Hope-Nashville game promises to be one of the best yet. Nashville hasn't beaten Hope at Nashville in many years, but this season the Scrappers are undefeated. The Bobcats would like nothing better than to spoil this unblemished record and upset Nashville, rated as the second A team in Arkansas. Plan to back the Bobcats next Thursday at Nashville.

WILL SHE REACH?

How high will this giant rocket go? 20 miles? 100 miles? That depends on her power lift... the height she was built to go. She may never reach the expectation of her designers. It may be that your prayers will never reach either. How high do your prayers go? Do they really reach the heart of God? The great designer intended that the sincere prayer of every righteous man should reach all the way to God. Prayer is man's greatest means of tapping His resources. Do you pray with sincerity... with faith behind it? Do your prayers reach their goal??? How high do they go? Maybe you better start going to church again and learn the secret of a prayer that will reach all the way.

So They May See -- Psalms 125 and 126 -- So They May Hear

THEY THAT TRUST in the Lord shall be as Mount Zion which cannot be removed, but abideth forever.

2. As the mountains are round about Jerusalem, so the Lord is round about his people from henceforth even for ever.

3. The rod of the wicked shall not rest upon the lot of the righteous; lest the righteous put forth their hands unto iniquity.

4. Do good, O Lord, unto those that be good, and to them that are upright in their hearts.

5. As for such as turn aside unto their crooked ways, the Lord shall lead them forth with the workers of iniquity: but peace shall be upon Israel.

WHEN THE LORD turned again the captivity of Zion, we were like them that dream.

2. Then was our mouth filled with laughter, and our tongue with singing: then said they among the heathen, The Lord hath done great things for them.

3. The Lord hath done great things for us; whereof we are glad.

4. Turn again our captivity, O Lord, as the streams in the south.

5. They that sow in tears shall reap in joy.

6. He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him.
